

To whom it may concern:

Friends and colleagues who are architects recommended Tim Smith, ASLA, to us. We consulted with Tim on a complete redesign of our front yard. He provided a detailed proposal and we hired him.

Tim listened carefully to our needs that included a water feature, fire pit, drought tolerant plants, and seating options for usage as an entertainment and relaxation space. He even sketched a charming little elevation of a water wall (that now exists) on a napkin as we discussed possibilities. In his creative final design, he incorporated all of our needs; construction details, including drainage, irrigation plans, plants, and lighting along with function. He also provided maintenance recommendation for all plantings. His professionalism, attention to detail, and follow-through were exceptional. We trusted him to oversee the project while we were away for a month of vacation.

We, along with family, friends, and neighbors spend many daytime and evening hours enjoying the transformed front yard.
